

Delegation Name: France

Ambassador Name: Nicolas Fattoruso Delgado

Honorable Presidency and Fellow Delegates,

The French Republic has been a part of the UN since its founding in 1945, and since then, the UN has been a global example of international cooperation, and how important it is for keeping the peace.

The delegation of France believes that especially in times of crisis, global governance is a key element in the process of resolving any and all conflicts, such as measures taken for pandemics, which can be implemented more efficiently if they are taken internationally. Also, the delegation of France believes a worldwide effort must be made to stop religious extremism, which will only be possible through international cooperation, as religious extremism occurs in various regions of the world. Even though different countries might have different policies, we have worked together in the past, and during this conference, the delegation of France will put an emphasis on resolving issues through peaceful and constructive debate. We look forward to creating solutions that benefit all parties involved, so that we may work together towards a better world.

Thank you for your attention.
